

Instructions for Authors

Journal of Harbin Institute of Technology (New Series) (JHIT) is world-oriented academic journal in natural science and engineering technology sponsored by Harbin Institute of Technology (http://hit.alljournals.cn/jhit_cn/ch/index.aspx, 6 issues per year). The journal welcomes high-quality original contributions, with topics mainly on the following fields: Aerospace and Astronautics, Control Science and Engineering, Electronics and Communication Engineering, Materials Science and Engineering, Computer Science, Robot Technology, Mechanical Engineering and Automation, Energy Science and Engineering, Electrical Engineering, etc.

Journal of Harbin Institute of Technology (New Series) is included by the following databases: Scopus, Chemical Abstracts Service (CAS), Ulrichsweb, Current Bibliography of Science and Technology Japan (CBSTJ), Russian AJ, China National Knowledge Infrastructure(CNKI), Superstar Journals Database, WANFANG Data, Chongqing VIP(CQVIP), and others.

Journal of Harbin Institute of Technology (New Series) considers all manuscripts from the following aspects:

- ★ The manuscript must be original, and does not duplicate any previously published work including your own.
- ★ The manuscript has been submitted only to Journal of Harbin Institute of Technology (New Series); it is not under consideration or peer review, accepted for publication, in press, or published elsewhere.
- ★ The manuscript contains nothing that is confidential or illegal.

Introduction for Submission

Submit the manuscript through online system: http://hit.alljournals.cn/jhit_cn/ch/index.aspx. JHIT uses double-blind review (i.e. both the reviewer and author identities are concealed from the reviewers, and vice versa, throughout the review process). To facilitate this, authors should prepare the following two separate files:

★ Title Page (with author information) that includes title, authors' names in proper sequence (mark the corresponding author with a superscript “*”), each author's affiliations, fund project and grant number, acknowledgements, contact information of the corresponding author (name, degree(e.g. Ph.D/MS/MA.Sc), professional title(e.g. Professor/Associate professor/Lecturer), email address).

★ Main Document (without author information or foundation item) that includes title, abstract, key words, CLC number, main text, figures, tables, and references, excluding any information that gives away authors' identity.

Manuscript preparation and uploading PDF files

Please use Word processing software to write your manuscript, and save the Title Page and the Main Document (which are in word format originally) as PDF files. After registering and signing in on our submission and review tracking system, follow the instructions to upload them separately.

Uploading Copyright Transfer Form

Once the manuscript is accepted, please upload the signed Copyright Transfer Agreement when uploading your revised manuscript. Please refer to JHIT Copyright Transfer Agreement.

Manuscript revision

The revised manuscript is in editable word format, with the revised contents marked in color or highlighted. It is also spell checked and grammar checked by Word.

Fund project and grant No.

These should be included in the Title Page and formatted as the example below:

Sponsored by the National Natural Science Foundation of China (Grant No. ), the Major State Basic Research Development Program of China (Grant No. ), and the Key Project of Science and Technology of Shanghai (Grant No. ***).

Acknowledgements

It should contain all the information concerning the help you received in the process of manuscript writing (which includes language refinement and revision, proofreading of proof copy, provision of experimental data or experiment equipment, technical instruction, etc.). It should be placed after the text and before the references as a separate section.

Note: Do NOT include Acknowledgement in the Main Document when submitting the manuscript, rather include it in the Title Page. Add it to the appropriate place after the manuscript is accepted.

Changes to authorship

Authors are expected to consider carefully the list and order of authors before submitting their manuscript and provide the definitive list of authors at the time of the original submission. Any addition, deletion or rearrangement of author names in the authorship list should be made only before the manuscript has been accepted and only if approved by the Editor of the journal. And the corresponding author must provide a written confirmation, which states the reasons for the change in author list and with signatures from all authors that they agree with the addition, removal or rearrangement. Upload the scanned copy or photo of the declaration to our submission and review tracking system or email it to the Editorial Department, email address: hitxuebao_e@hit.edu.cn .

After the manuscript is accepted, no author's information shall be changed.

Manuscript format

Language

Only manuscripts written in English are accepted. Manuscript should be proofread and have language errors corrected before submission as we may have to return papers due to poor language usage.

Title

Concise and informative, and generally no more than 15 words.

Authors

Authors of a manuscript are no more than 6 people. All authors should include their full names, complete affiliations, and postal address.

Abstract

Please provide one paragraph containing a complete but concise description of your work in 200 words. The abstract should state briefly the purpose of the research, the adopted approach, the principal results and major conclusions. Since the abstract is indexed in many database systems, it should be self-contained without any undefined abbreviations or any cited references.

Keywords

Please provide 3 to 8 keywords which can be used for indexing purposes.

CLC number

Please provide CLC (Chinese Library Classification) number.

Footnotes

Please provide the received date of manuscript, the name and number of funding program, the name and email address for corresponding author on the footnote of the title page of the manuscript.

Formulates and symbols

Formulates, symbols and all subscripts, superscripts, Greek letters, and other characters must be legible and carefully checked. Standard mathematical notation should be used. All symbols used in manuscript must be explained.

Single letters that denote mathematical constants, variables, and unknown quantities should be set in italic type in text and in equations. Numerals, operators, and punctuation should be set in Roman type (upright), as are commonly defined functions or abbreviations, e.g., cos, det, e or exp, lim, log, max, min, sin, tan, d (for derivative) should also be upright. Vectors, tensors, and matrices should be set in bold italic.

Figures and tables

Please provide the highest quality figure format possible. All figures must be numbered using Arab numerals in the order in which they appear in the manuscript. For each figure, please supply a figure title and a figure caption. Make sure to identify all elements found in the figure in the caption.

All tables are to be numbered using Arab numerals. Tables should be always cited in text in consecutive numerical order. For each table, please supply a table title. The table title should explain clearly and concisely the components of the table. The table is in the three-line table form.

Heading/Section levels

For articles, please use the decimal system of headings with no more than three levels. For example, 0 Introduction, 1 Experimental, 1.1..., 1.2..., 1.2.1..., 1.2.2..., 2 Results and Discussion, 3 Conclusions.

References

The list of references should only include works that are cited in the text and that have been published or accepted for publication. Papers accepted for publication are cited as “in press”. References to the literature are cited by number in square brackets at appropriate locations (before a period, comma, etc.) in the text, for example, “... as demonstrated ^[5,8] ...; Li^[9] obtained ...; In Ref.[10], ...”, and make sure that all the references in the reference list are cited in the main text. JHIT supports manuscripts using the citation-management software EndNote. When submitting, click “Begin EndNote Submission” in the “Start New Submission” interface, then follow the steps to complete submission. The system will automatically adjust the reference format according to the requirement of our journal. References are no less than 20.

All literature citations are compiled in a numbered references list at the end of the manuscript text, in the order of their first citation in the text. Each numbered reference may contain only one literature citation. Please ensure references are given in the correct format, including titles of journal/book chapters with initial and final page numbers.
